

I believe we should all look for the opportunity to help others in our community when we can. The aim of the George Gregan Foundation is to build unique outdoor playgrounds for every children's hospital in Australia and Canberra is our next project. To do that we need to raise money and I need your help.

The George Gregan Foundation was established in August 2005 when my son was diagnosed with epilepsy. I spent a lot of time in hospital with Max and experienced first hand the needs of many sick children and their families. The need for kids to have a place to exercise, use their imagination, stretch their boundaries and to have some fun is very important. The playgrounds that the Foundation builds give kids the space and equipment to do all that.

Our latest project The Canberra Hospital playground will have play elements for kids of all ages and stages. Patients in bed and wheelchairs will be able to use the playground, toddlers will have equipment designed just for them, there will be places for Mum and Dad to sit and watch their kids play and there will be lots of fun sculptures, bright colours and exciting elements to discover.

Please help us raise the money we need to build the playground for The Canberra Hospital or lend your support for our other projects at the Children's Hospital at Westmead or The Royal Children's Hospital, Brisbane.

By working together, we can build this playground.
